What is National Lutheran School Accreditation?

National Lutheran School Accreditation (NLSA) is a process of self-evaluation followed by a visit of objective observers designed to help Lutheran schools improve the quality of their programs. The process is completely voluntary and available for every school operated by a single congregation, by an association of congregations, or by a Recognized Service Organization of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod or the Lutheran Church—Canada. NLSA is a rigorous national accrediting process designed to evaluate schools based on their unique purpose as Lutheran schools. It helps schools evaluate not only the quality of the academics and programs, but also most importantly the spiritual dimension of the school.

The standards for Lutheran Schools and Early Childhood Centers are listed in this packet and the report forms are similar to those used by other accrediting agencies, both secular and religious. (Report forms are listed in this document and can be located on the LCMS web site.)

What are the purposes of National Lutheran School Accreditation?

The purposes of NLSA are to:

1. Help Lutheran schools - early childhood, elementary and secondary - to improve.
2. Help all Lutheran schools and centers to evaluate themselves based upon their unique purposes and national standards.
3. Give appropriate recognition to those schools that complete the process successfully.

How does NLSA allow for differences of levels of schools?

The NLSA processes, both Standards Based (SB) and Ongoing Improvement (OI) are appropriate for all three levels: early childhood (including childcare), elementary and secondary. (See below for links to more information on Standards Based and Ongoing Improvement models.) However adaptations and suggestions for evaluating and reporting plans and progress on some standards need to be made to allow for differences. Notes of clarification and special helps for early childhood directors, elementary principals and secondary administrators are available for schools that apply. These manuals assist all three levels of administrators to understand and provide leadership for the accreditation process at their school.

How does a school apply for NLSA?

1. The school administrator expresses initial interest to the District Educational Executive, options:
 - a. see listing of LCMS District's NLSA Commissioners, or
 - b. visit www.lcmsdistricts.com to find the address and/or phone number of your district office, or
 - c. contact the NLSA office at Janice.schroeder@lcms.org or 800-248-1930, x. 1294.
2. The district executive or the NLSA office will send initial information and an application form to the school.

3. Schools review the initial information. If interested, they will complete three copies of the application form (see below for link to document) and submit them, along with the application fee, to the District Education Executive for his or her signature. Additional district accreditation fees and forms may be required.
4. The district executive will sign the forms, keeping one copy and sending two copies to the NLSA office along with the school's application fee, and suggest a trained consultant for the school. The team visit must occur within three years from the time of application to NLSA or a second application must be filed and another fee paid.
5. Upon receipt of the application and fee NLSA will send a CD with full instructions that will allow the school to complete the process. The NLSA Director will appoint a trained NLSA consultant who will help the school with their process. The NLSA office must receive the application and fee at least nine months before the site visit occurs.

Does NLSA have other accrediting partners?

NLSA has developed co-accrediting partnerships with many of our well respected secular regional accrediting agencies. Reciprocity allows a school to gain accreditation from two agencies through the use of a simple process. Contact the NLSA national office to obtain more information about the benefits of co-accreditation.

NLSA has reciprocity with the following secular regional accrediting agencies:

- NAC (North Central Association of Schools and Colleges)
- SACS (Southern Association of Schools and Colleges)
- WASC (Western Association of Schools and Colleges)
- NASCU (Northwest Association of Schools Colleges and Universities)
- MSA (Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools)
- NSPSA (National Council for Private School Education)

Can Lutheran early childhood centers be accredited?

The accreditation needs of LCMS early childhood centers can be accommodated by using process designed by early childhood educators specifically for early childhood centers. NLSA Accreditation Standards for early childhood centers are challenging, appropriate and relevant.

Early childhood centers desiring co-accreditation with NAEYC are encouraged to visit the NAEYC Web site for more information (www.naeyc.org/academy/). When the center successfully completes the NAEYC accreditation process it can also become accredited by NLSA using this abbreviated process.

Is NLSA on The Lutheran School Portal?

Current news and information about National Lutheran School Accreditation is located on the Lutheran School Portal at www.luthed.org. Follow the NLSA link on the National Page. This site is updated frequently with important information for schools accredited by NLSA. The Lutheran School Portal is a membership site.

Benefits of National Lutheran School Accreditation

- 1) Allows you to identify and celebrate your strengths
- 2) Exposes weaknesses that should be corrected
- 3) Provides validation for your program's existence
- 4) Prepares a "blueprint" for improvement for the next five years
- 5) Removes your ability to procrastinate and postpone important things that should be done
- 6) Rallies support from people who might otherwise not have been involved
- 7) Builds cohesiveness among staff members
- 8) Strengthens your image in the community
- 9) Provides you with a PR tool for your arsenal
- 10) Connects you with hundreds of other LCMS schools that have already worked through the process
- 11) Provides a set of objective eyes (site evaluation team) to review your work
- 12) Provides accountability to your community, constituents and congregation.
- 13) Compares your program to a set of objective national standards for Lutheran school
- 14) Provides the opportunity to evaluate the spiritual component of your school
- 15) Helps establish an image for your program
- 16) Provides motivation for staff development
- 17) Validates your credibility through an objective outside agency
- 18) Publicly acknowledges the quality of your institution
- 19) Provides the opportunity for public acknowledgement and celebration
- 20) Is something every Lutheran preschool, elementary school, and high school can and should attain

NLSA STANDARDS FOR ACCREDITED SCHOOLS

- The school is mission driven
- The school demonstrates its Christian mission through relationships with congregations, community, staff, students and families.
- The school is governed and administered according to written policy.
- A qualified and competent staff serves the school.
- The school has written curriculum that integrates the Christian faith and is supported by appropriate materials and resources.
- Christian teachers facilitate student learning to achieve the planned outcomes of the school's curriculum.
- The school plans for and provides resources and activities for students beyond the standard classroom instruction.
- The school maintains a safe and healthy learning environment.
- All buildings, grounds and equipment support student learning and conform fully with applicable laws and building codes.
- The school has a financial plan to accomplish its mission.
- Evaluation tools and processes are used to define success and plan for continued school improvement.

More than 250 specific indicators (practices and documentation) quantify a school's compliance with standards defined by National Lutheran School Accreditation.
